Concurrent Enrollment Program

CONCURRENT ENROLLMENT

Rose State College provides opportunities for students to get a head start on college by earning college credit while they are still in high school. High school juniors and seniors who meet policy requirements can participate in concurrent enrollment. These concurrent programs help high school students meet high school requirements, and can give them an advantage when competing for scholarships and admission to four-year universities. Successful completion of college course work demonstrates that students are capable of the academic rigor college demands. Each high school senior who meets the eligibility requirements for concurrent enrollment shall be entitled to receive a tuition waiver equivalent to the amount of resident tuition for a maximum of six (6) credit hours per semester. Students are responsible for the fee portion of payment.

Dual Enrollment

Dual enrollment classes are college level classes offered to high school students for both high school and college credit. Dual enrollment students are enrolled for classes at both the high school and the college. While students earn high school credit, they also earn college credit, therefore reducing duplicated classes. Rose State College credits are recorded on a permanent college record and transcript. High schools are responsible for recording high school credits.

ON-SITE OFFERINGS

Rose State College faculty will come to the high school campus to teach courses. The same syllabus, course requirements, and grading policies and practices are used to ensure the validity of the college credit.

COURSE OFFERINGS

Concurrent students have several options for taking courses. Students may attend courses offered on the Rose State College campus, online, and courses offered off the Rose State College campus on the high school campus or via Interactive Television (I-TV). Concurrent students may not enroll in remedial (zero-level) course work offered by Rose State College designed to remove high school deficiencies.

INTERACTIVE TELEVISION COURSES

Through the medium of Interactive Television, Rose State College extends its distance education program to high school sites at McLoud, Eastern Oklahoma County Career Tech, Guthrie, Harrah, Jones, Luther, Meeker, and Wellston. This technology allows offsite students to interact and experience the college classroom environment. Interactive Television changes the landscape of the traditional classroom environment allowing more opportunities to obtain a higher education. Interactive TV is notably appealing for athletes who are unable to leave their high school campus to attend college classes. Rose State College offers the following classes by Interactive TV.

ACCREDITATION

Rose State College was developed under the guidelines established by the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education and has received full accreditation by that body. This accreditation assures the transferability of credits to four-year colleges within the state of Oklahoma. However, students are responsible for determining the application of specific courses to four-year degree programs. The receiving institution determines what is and is not acceptable coursework. Prior to completing the general education coursework, it is advisable for students to initiate contact with the four-year institution to which they are planning to transfer to verify their recommended course of study.

PeopleSoft Students Information System (oasis) Login

To access student records through the PeopleSoft system, address your browser to oasis.rose.edu. Your User ID is created by combining the first initial of your first name, the first initial of your last name, and your 7 digit student ID number. Your initial password is your birthday entered in MMDDYYYY format.

EXAMPLE: John Smith – July 1, 1950 and Student ID is 0003418
USER ID: JS0003418
PASSWORD: 07011950

STUDENT EMAIL LOGIN

The colleges issues each student a college email address with the stu.rose.edu domain for all official communication. The account is created the next college business day after you first enroll in classes for college credit and will be active continuously until you are not enrolled in credit classes for one year.

Your student email address is in the format firstname-lastname@stu.rose.edu. (Note: Your email account username has a maximum length of 24 characters.) If you share a first and last name with another student, to avoid duplicate email addresses, a sequenced number will follow the name in the email address. To verify your email address, you may need to log onto the OASIS system (oasis.rose.edu), navigate within OASIS following the path SA Self Service » Personal Portfolio » Home » Personal Portfolio. Under Contact Information, click the Email Addresses link to view your assigned email address.

To login, go to stuwebmail.rose.edu/ in your web browser. Enter your email username (the part of your email address before the @ symbol) and your password. Click the Enter button. Your initial password is your birth date in MMDDYYYY format. You may (and should) change your default email password. You may change your password in the account options. If you prefer to forward your school email to another email account which you check more frequently or on a mobile device, you may do that as well. Just be sure to update this setting if you change your other email address.

STEPS FOR NEW USER LOGIN

If you are a Rose student taking classes for college credit, your Rose D2L username is the same as your email username (the part of your college-provided email address before the @ symbol). For example, if your email address is john-smith@stu.rose.edu, your Rose D2L username would be john-smith.

Once you know your Rose D2L username, you must request that a password setup link be sent to your college email account. The request link to setup your password is provided on the Rose D2L Login page at d2l.rose.edu.

A message from the Rose D2L Helpdesk containing the requested password setup link should arrive in your college email account within a few minutes. If you don't receive the password setup link within ten minutes, please contact the Rose D2L Helpdesk at www.rose.edu/rose-d2l-helpdesk.

When you locate the message in your email account containing the password setup link, you may click the link in the body of the message or copy and paste the link into the address field of your browser to open the password setup page.

Once the password setup page opens, you will be asked to enter your Rose D2L username, choose a password (at least eight characters in length), and reenter that password. If you need help choosing a secure password, see www.rose.edu/guidelines-for-choosing-a-secure-password.

After you submit the form, you should see a message that indicates you have successfully setup your password and provides a link to the Rose D2L Login page. Click the link to login using your Rose D2L username and your new password. If you forget your password at any point in the future, you may repeat this process to setup a new password.

LOGIN PAGE

You may login to the Rose D2L system directly by opening your browser to d2l.rose.edu.

TROUBLESHOOTING LOGIN PROBLEMS

If the Rose D2L login page at d2l.rose.edu loads properly, but your username or password is invalid when you try to login, be sure you are using the correct Rose D2L username (see above Steps for New User Login), remember your password is case-sensitive. Check carefully that your password is typed correctly and that your CAPS LOCK is turned off. After six consecutive failed login attempts, your D2L account will be locked for five minutes. If you still cannot login, you may use the Request Password Setup Link on the Rose D2L Login page as described in the Steps for New User Login above. For help with ALL student logins including contact information visit www.rose.edu/student-login.

Desire2Learn (D2L) Login

Desire2Learn (D2L) is the course management system used in our online courses and many on-campus courses. New Rose D2L accounts are created weekly until a few days before the semester begins and then daily on Monday through Friday (unless the college is closed for a holiday). This account creation process is completed by approximately 8:00 AM. Your D2L account remains active, even between semesters, provided you enroll in at least one class per year.

NOTE: If you are enrolled in a fully online class, it is critical that you log on to D2L before the class begins and at least once a day after the course begins. Online attendance is monitored and measured by timely completion of assignments.

Class Attendance

It is the responsibility of all students to be punctual and attend classes regularly. The student is responsible for consulting with the professor when an absence occurs. Professors are given the prerogative of determining whether the absence shall be deemed excusable. The student is responsible for all class work covered during his/her absence, even in cases in which the absence was excused or unavoidable. Failure to attend class regularly may result in recommendation for the student to withdraw from class and/or from the College.

NOTE: If you are enrolled in a fully online class, it is critical that you log on to D2L before the class begins and at least once a day after the course begins. Online attendance is monitored and measured by timely completion of assignments.

Concurrent courses offered on high school campuses or via Interactive-TV

Students who are enrolled in classes that meet on high school campuses or view lectures via Interactive-TV will be responsible for attending all scheduled class sessions. As in all cases, the professor shall determine whether an absence is excusable. Regardless, if a student misses class for any reason, he/she will be responsible for contacting the professor and, if allowed, making up class work covered during their absence.

Withdrawal

Concurrent students must consult with Rose State College Office of Distance Education and their high school counselor(s) and/or principal prior to withdrawal from college courses. Students must complete and submit a withdrawal form to the Rose State College Admissions office before they can be officially withdrawn from college courses. Failure to do so may result in the student earning the grade of "F" for the class. Students must withdraw prior to the withdrawal deadline which is listed in the current Rose State College class schedule book. Rose State College withdrawal deadlines are set according to the following schedule:

- Prior to the end of the 12th week in a 16-week session.
- Prior to the end of the 6th week of any 8-week session.
- Prior to the end of the 3rd week of any 4-week session.
- Prior to the last three class periods of an interim session.

Grades:

A concurrent student must achieve a college cumulative grade-point average of 2.0 or above on a 4.0 scale.

Students are responsible for monitoring their grades throughout the semester. A student should discuss any concerns regarding grades with the professor as soon as possible.

Concurrent students will not be permitted to enroll in Telecourses.

Telecourses, which may be identified in the printed schedule with a time of VAR, are not approved concurrent courses and will not be allowed for concurrent enrollment.

Each high school senior who meets the eligibility requirements for concurrent enrollment shall be entitled to receive a tuition waiver equivalent to the amount of resident tuition for a maximum of six (6) credit hours per semester. Students are responsible for the fee portion of payment.
