

Privatization – Is it transparent?

- Through use of an open competitive bid process such as provided by the competitive bidding act, and with thoughtful contract construction, transparency is possible
- Services are provided direct to the public, so anyone utilizing those services can provide feedback on their experience